JACOB SNYDER, TAILOR,

The Hero of One Hundred Fits per Month!

I would respectfully set forth my claim to public attention, as a Fashionable Tailor as follows:

Because I keep an excellent assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings and Trimmings, which, when examined, always please.

Because my work is made up in a manner that takes down the country and gives all my customers a city appearance.

Because I am not inferior as a Cutter to the best to be found anywhere.

Because long experience in my business gives me entire control over it and I am not dependant upon any one to lift me out of the sads.

Because I am still on the sunny side of forty, and therefore my taste as a Cutter and workman unimpaired.

Call on me, in the corner room of the "Brant House." Give me a trial and you will go away pleased.

Altoona, May 26-6m JACOB SNYDER.

PIKE'S PEAK NO MORE! BUT the great rush now is to the

Altoona Restaurant and Lager Beer Saloon,

Under Keystone Hall, corner of Annie and Virginia Streets.

This house is new, and the basement fitted up specially for the purposes of a first-class Restaurant and Saloon, and the proprietor having had many years experience in the business, will keep constantly on hand the best LAGER BEER that can be found this side of the Atlantic, and catables to supply the wants of the hungry. He will also keep choice SEGARS and the best of TOBACCO. He invites all his old friends and the public generally to give him a call at his new Restaurant and Saloon.

THE DAISY.

BY MARY RANKIN.

Two' bordered with silver and centered with gold,
Yet few in the daisy can beauty behold.
Beneath the proud foot unthinkingly trod,
'Tis crushed in its meekness upon the cold sward.

Ah say not 'tis vile—Omnipotent power
Hath shaded and formed this delicate flower.
'Tis then not in vain, that wisdom and skill,
Displayed in this flower hath a purpose to fill.

When the day god takes up his march through the sky,
He tenderly kisses the the tear from its eye;
The unconscious beauty awakes from its dream;
And basks the day long in his bright golden beam.

Like a miniature sun, so dazzling and bright,
Reflecting the rays of its corrowed light,
It smilingly greets us on the hill or the green,
Thus lending enchantment where'er it is seen.

Ah! well I remember, in the morning of youth,
The zest it gave duty—the incentive to truth—
And now this bright gem, when crushed to the sward,
Throws back its bright blushes and looks up to God.

So meek and so mild, so potient and true,
Its fidelity seemed my young heart to woo,
As o'er it I bent—it seemed whispering kind,
And bade me look upward true pleasure to find.

Then say not 'tis vain, gold embossed flower,
Oft hath it cheered in adversity's hour!
And taught me celestial joys to admire,
And ever and purely to Heaven aspire.

Yellow Springs, June, 1859.

Select Miscellany.

No Right to Indorse.

1. A man has no right to indorse, when the failure of the first party to meet his obligation will render the creditors of the indorser liable to loss in consequence of such indorsement.

2. He has no right to indorse for another man unless he make provision for meeting such obligation, independent of and after providing for all other obligations.

3. He has no right to indorse unless he fully intends to pay what he promises to, promptly, in case the first party fails to do so. Few indorsers prepare for this.

4. His relations to his family demands that he shall not obligate himself to another, simply at the risk of defrauding or depriving them of what belongs to them.

5. He should never indorse or become responsible for any amount without security is furnished by the first party. It should be made a business transaction—rarely a matter of friendship. It is equivalent to a loan of capital to the amount of the obligation, and the same precaution should be taken to secure it.

6. A man has no more right to expect another to indorse his note without recompense, than to expect an insurance company to insure his home or his life gratuitously.

7. It is not good business policy for one to ask another to indorse his note, promising to accommodate him in the same manner. The exchange of signatures may have, and usually does have, a very unequal value. It is better to secure him the amount, and exact a like security for the amount of responsibility incurred.

8. It is better to do a business that will involve no necessity for asking or granting such favors, or making such exchanges.—It is always safe and just to do so.—Prairie Farmer.

LUCK.—I may here, as well as anywhere, (said Henry Ward Beecher, in a recent lecture) impart the secret of what is called good and bad luck. There are men who, suppose Providence to have an implacable spite against them, bemoan in poverty of a wretched old age the misfortune or their lives. Luck forever ran against them and for others.

One, with a good profession, lost his luck in the river, where he idled his time away in fishing, when he should have been in the office. Another with a good trade, perpetually burnt up his luck with his hot temper, which provoked al his employers to leave him. Another, with a lucrative business, lost his luck by awaking diligence at everything but his business—Another, who steadily followed his bottle. Another, who was honest and constant at his work, erred by perpetual misjudgements, he lacked discretion. Hundreds lose their luck by endorsing; by sanguine speculations; by trusting fraudulent men; and by dishonest gains. A man never has good luck who has a bad wife. I never knew an early-rising, hard working prudent man, careful of his earnings and strictly honest, who complained of bad luck. A good character, good habits, and iron industry, are impregnable to the assaults of all the ill-luck that fools ever dreamed of. But when I see a tatterdemalion creeping out of a groggery late in the forenoon, with his hands stuck in his pockets, the rim of his hat turned up, and the crown knocked in, I know he has had bad luck—for the worst of all luck is to be a sluggard, a knave, or a tippler.

☞ A negro once gave a toast. "De late Gubernor of de State—he come in wid berry little opposition, him go out wid none at all."

Read, Pause and Reflect.

If you wish to be always thirsty, be a drunkard; for the oftener and more you drink, the oftener and more thirsty you will be.

If you seek to prevent your friends raising you in the world, be a drunkard; for that will defeat all their efforts.

If you would effectually counteract your own attempts to do well, be a drunkard; and you will not be disappointed.

If you wish to repell the endeavors of the whole world to raise you to character, credit and prosperity, be a drunkard, and you will most assuredly triumph.

If you are determined to be poor, be a drunkard; and you will soon be ragged and penniless.

If you would wish to starve your family be a drunkard; for that will consume the means of their support.

If you would be imposed on by knaves, be a drunkard; that will make their task easy.

If you wish to be robbed, be a drunkard; which will enable the thief to do it with more safety.

If you would wish to blunt your senses, be a drunkard; and you will soon be more stupid than an ass.

If you would become a fool, be a drunkard, and you will soon lose your understanding.

If you wish to unfit yourself for rational intercourse, be a drunkard; for this will accomplish your purpose.

If you are resolved to kill yourself, be a drunkard; that bing a sure road to destruction.

If you would expose both your folly and secrets, be a drunkard; and they will soon be made known.

If you are too strong, be a drunkard; you will soon be subdued by too powerful an enemy.

If you would get rid of your money without knowing how, be a drunkard, and it will vanish insensibly.

If you would have no resource when past labor but a workhouse, be a drunkard; and you will be unable to provide any.

If you are determined to expel all comfort from your house, be a drunkard; and you will soon do it effectually.

If you would always be under strong suspicion be a drunkard; for, little as you think it, all agree that those who steal from themselves and families will rob others.

If you would be reduced to the necessity of shunning your creditors, be a drunkard; and you will soon have reason to prefer the by-paths to the public streets.

If you would be dead weight on the community, and "cumber the ground," be a drunkard; for that will render you useless, helpless, burdensome and expensive.

If you would be a nuisance, be a drunkard; for the approach of a drunkard is like that of a dunghill.

If you would be hated by your family and friends, be a drunkard; and you will soon be more than disagreeable.

If you would be a pest to society, be a drunkard; and you will be avoided as infections.

If you do not wish to have your faults reformed, continue to be a drunkard; and you will not care for good advice.

If you would smash windows, break the peace, get your bones broken, tumble under carts and horses, and be locked up in watch-houses, be a drunkard; and it will be strange if you do not succeed.

If you wish all your prospects in life to be clouded, be a drunkard; and they will soon be dark enough.

Finally if you are determined to be utterly destroyed in estate, body, and soul, be a drunkard; and you will soon know that it is impossible to adopt a more effectual means to accomplish your—END.

☞ A witness, a jolly, plump old lady, in the Supreme Court at Worchester, Massachusetts, recently was asked what time a certain train of cars passed her house. She replied that she commenced knitting at 3 o'clock, and had knit twice around the leg of a stocking before they came along. The next question was, of course, how long it would take to knit twice around. The Judge here in his usual quiet humor, suggested that that would depend upon the size of the stocking. To this the witness remarked that the stocking was for herself, and that they could exercise their own judgement as to the size, and guess how long it would take.

☞ Insects generally must lead a truly jovial life. Think what it must be to lodge in a lily! Imagine a palace of ivory or pearl, with pillars of silver and capitals of gold, all exhaling such a perfume as never rose from human censor! Fancy, again, the fun of tucking yourself up for the night in the folds of a rose, rocked to sleep by the genial sighs of a summer's air, and nothing to do when you awake but to wash yourself in a dew-drop and fall to and eat your bed-cloths!

☞ The young lady who refused to go into the rifle manufactory because some of the guns had no breeches is spending a few days at Sandy Hook, looking out for a ship that is said to be in stays.

Black Soldiers.

The French boast that some of their fiercest and most terrible troops were the Turcos, as black as a coal, natives of North Africa, men whose fierce passions mount up to perfect frenzy in moments of a charge, and who, officered by Frenchmen of judgment to guide and direct their tremendous energies, do all that men can do on the field of battle, and seem rather like tigers in the impetuosity of their attacks. The French have no doubt learned, indeed, a useful lesson in the art of war from the Arab troops with which they have been brought in contact on the coast of Algires. The suddenness, swiftness and whirlwind character of attack, sweeping all before it, palsying all resistance, and trampling in the dust all opposition; this sort of attack has been brought to a degree of perfection by the Zouaves and the Turcos from a hard-earned experience of its terribleness on the plains of Africa. Something of this kind, indeed, is best, and the only possible kind of force that can operate to advantage in breaking a line of soldiers well supplied with the new guns of long range now in use. The rapidity with which they cover the ground, the irregularity of their formation, and the wild fierceness of their attack, fascinating and so disarming for a moment an enemy, renders modern warfare, no less than the old modes of fighting, a hand to hand encounter.

IDEAS OF CHILDREN.—A devoted Christian woman was instructing her little nephew in serious things, and showed him a picture in Fox's Book of Martyrs where Christians were being torn in pieces by lions in the amphitheatre. The child looked on for some time in silence and evident sympathy, when all of a sudden he exclaimed: "See that poor little lion, he can't get any"

"What are you doing?" asked a mother of her little girl. "Playing school," was the reply. "But it is Sunday to-day."—"I know it;" said the child, "so I am playing Sunday School."

A mother was instructing her daughter in the duty of prayer and the sure answer given to believers; and proceeded to repeat the Lord's Prayer. When she came to the clause, "Give us this day our daily bread," the little one broke out with, "Oh, mother, say cake, say cake."

LYING IN BED.—No piece of indolence hurts the health more than the modern custom of lying abed too long in the morning. This is the general practice in towns. The inhabitants of cities seldom rise before eight or nine o'clock, but the morning is undoubtedly the best time for exercise, while the stomach is empty and the body refreshed with sleep. Besides, the morning air braces and strengthens the nerves, and in some measure answers the purpose with a cold bath. Let any one, who has been accustomed to lie in bed till eight or nine o'clock, rise by six or seven, spend a couple of hours in walking, riding or any other active diversion without doors, he will find his spirits cheerful and serene throughout the day, his appetite keen, and his body braced and strengthened.

WE'LL MARRY THIS FALL.—I gave her a rose, and gave her a ring, and I asked her to marry me then; but she sent them all back, insensible thing, and said she'd no notion of men. I told her I'd oceans of money and goods, tried to frighten her with a growl; but she answered "she wasn't bro't up in the woods to be scared by the screech of an owl." I called her a beggar, and everything bad; I slighted her features and form; till at length I succeeded in getting her mad, and she raged like a sea in a storm. And then in a moment I turned and smiled, and called her my angel and all; she fell in my arms like a wearisome child, and exclaimed, "We will marry this fall."

LIFE WITHOUT TRIALS.—Would you wish to live without a trial? Then you would wish to die but half a man. Without trial you cannot guess your own strength. Men do not learn to swim on a table; they must go into deep water, and buffet the surges. If you wish to understand their true character—if you would know their whole strength—of what they are capable—throw them overboard—over with them—and if they are worth saving, they will swim ashore themselves.

☞ The beavers assembled on the bank of a beautiful stream, and after consultation, said to the water: 'you are very noisy in your course, and we think, very proud of your babbling, but we will throw logs across your pathway and plaster the interstices so that you can't get through, and your voice will be hushed." "I'll be dammed if you do," replied the water.

☞ "Jeff, why am you like the cedar?" "I guv's it up, Sam; I can't tell you." "Case you stays green both summer and winter."

☞ Love matches are often formed by people who pay for a month of honey with a life of vinegar.

A Child's Eloquence.

A sweet little girl named Sarah, had been to church, and went home full of what she had seen and heard. Sitting at the table with the family; she asked her father, who had been to church, but who was a very wicked man, whether he ever prayed. He did not like the question, and in a very angry manner, replied.

"It is your mother, or your aunt Sally, that put you up to that, my little girl."

"No, papa," said the little creature; "the preacher said, "All good people pray; and those who don't pray, aint going to heaven." Pa. do you pray?"

This was more than her father could stand, and in a rough way he said.

"Well, you, and your mother, and your aunt Sally, may go your way, and I will go mine."

"Pa," said the little orcature, with sweet simplicity, "which way are you going?" This question pierced his heart. It flashed upon him that he was in the way to death. He started from his chair, burst into tears, and immediately began to cry for mercy. Within a few days he was a happy convert, and, I belive he will appear in heaven as a star in his little daughter's crown of rejoicing.

AN UNEQUAL CONTEST.—An amusing incident occurred while Van Amburgh's menagerie was crossing the Appomattox, a short distance above the Pocahontas bridge, strikingly illustrative of the fact that the bull-dog is the most courageous of all animals, and will attack any creature, regardless of size. As the elephant entered the water with his usual slow and cautious step, some individual in the crowd, prompted by a spirit of mischief, hied on a large bull-dog to attack the huge animal. The dog instantly obeyed, and, plunging into the water, seized hold of one of the hind legs of the elephant, on which the latter only switched him with his tail, as he would brush off a fly, but not ridding himself of his assailant by such gentle means, and feeling sharp teeth at work upon his leg, he suddenly threw his snout around, and seizing the dog, held him under the water until he was nearly drowned; then, raising him high in the air, threw him at least a hundred feet out into the stream. Fully satisfied with the punishment he had received, the dog made his way to shore, and beat a hasty retreat.

A PRINTING OFFICE ANECDOTE.—A young English lad, just "come over," became an apprentice in a printing office, to "learn the trade." When learning the letter boxes in the "case," he asked the printer's "devil," a mischievous young scamp, where the E box was. The "devil" pointed him to the L box. After having studied over the "case" long enough to know all the "boxes" of the alphabet, the foreman asked him to "go over" them, naming each letter-box; the juvenile John Bull did so, and got them all right except E and L.

"You've got those two mixed up," remarked the foreman.

"Well," replied the young Englisher, "hi asked that party (pointing to the devil,) where HE was, and 'e pointed 'is finger to HELL!"

The foreman gave the "devil" a sharp look, and he grinned satanically.

☞ A traveler says that if he were asked to describe the first sensations of a camel ride, he would say: "Take a music stool, and having wound it up as high as it would go, put it in a cart without springs, get on top, and drive the cart transversely across a plowed field, and you will then form some notion of the terror and uncertainty you would experience the first time you mounted a camel."

☞ Breathes there a man with soul so dead, who never to himself hath said, will a family paper take, both for my own and children's sake! If such there be, let him repent, and have the paper to him sent; and if he'd pass a happy winter, he in advance should pay the printer.

☞ See here, Gripps, I understand you have a superior way of curing hams. I should like to learn it." "Well, yes, I know very well how to cure them, but the trouble with me, just now, is to find out a way to pro-cure them."

☞ An Irishman was testifying in Court, the other day, in regard to an assault with a gun, and delivered himself in this manner:—"Plaze your honer, he stroke a heavy blow with a goon, and broke it in three halves!"

☞ A lady being about to marry a small man was told that he was a very bad fellow.

"Well, said the lady if he is so bad there is one comfort—there is very little of him."

"No, sir," was the short reply.

"Oh I don't mean now, but some other night, when I can't go anywhere else."

THE BALANCE OF TRADE.—For some time past the balance of trade between the United States and foreign countries has been vastly in favor of the latter. This is attributable to a variety of causes which it is not our intention herein to enumerate or dwell upon, but merely to show from statistics, as published, that, notwithstanding the late increased amount of imports over our exports, there is still a little balance in our favor, when we sum up the business transactions of the last ten years, and that balance now bids fair to be again augmented. From the 1st day of July, 1849, to the 30th ult., the imports of the United States from foreign countries have amounted to $2,756,461,473, and the exports during the same period, to $2,761,889,175, exhibiting a balance of trade in favor of the United States, during that period, of $5,427,702. The amount of imports and exports during the last decade are more than double those of the preceding corresponding period. The amount of gold exported from the United States during the last decade has amounted to 400,000,000; the amount of breadstuffs and provisions exported during the same period is $450,000,000. The discovery of the California gold mines in 1848, and the repeal of the British corn laws in 1849, have exercised a great effect in enlarging the amount of exports, and thereby keeping the balance of trade in favor of the United States.

POISONING CASE.—We learn from the Juniata county papers that Mrs. Jacob Dewees, residing in Patterson, in that county, and a Mr. Davidson and lady, of Centre county, visitors of the former, were suddenly taken ill, on the 5th inst., after having partaken of a cake. The symptoms were those of virulent poison. A physician was called in, and from the symptoms and circumstances concluded that the cake contained arsenic, and that it had been used in mistake for cream tartar.—The antidote for arsenic was administered and they are now convalescing. The cake has since been analyzed by the Dr. and found to contain a large quantity of arsenic. The cake was originally intended to be served up at a pic nic on the 4th, but providentially the owner was prevented from attending, and thereby a number of lives, in all probability, were saved, as it would have been impossible to have afforded medical aid to all who would have partaken of it had it been so served up.

☞ The Philadelphians are having fine quite an exciting time, for such warm weather, in relation to running cars on the City Passenger Railways on Sunday. It is feared by the religious portion of the community that a license will ultimately be obtained legally allowing this desecration of the Sabbath, a strong effort to obtain which is now being made. Although all the drivers of cars run on Sunday, up to this time, have been arrested and fined, it is said that the companies employing them pay the fines willingly, inasmuch as the travel on that day greatly exceeds the week day travel, and their increased receipts enables them to pay the fines and have a handsome surplus left.

GODEY'S LADY'S BOOK.—The August number of this publication came to hand with its accustomed punctuality, bearing within its folds a rich treasure of valuable information for the ladies whom it is specially designed to please and instruct. As soon would a lady, who has been accustomed to receiving it, think of going without a new spring bonnet as of doing without the Book. Price $3 per annum. L. A. Godey, Phila.

COSMOPOLITAN ART JOURNAL.—We welcome back to our table this publication, after a year's absence, and we are pleased to find it much improved. It is decidedly the best number ever issued by the Association. The low price at which it is furnished—$2,00 a year—when the value of the matter regularly appearing in its pages, and the elegant engravings which embellish it, are considered, is really a trifle; and besides this, every subscriber will receive a beautiful engraving entitled "Shakspeare and his Friends," a free season admission to the galleries 548 Broadway, N. Y., and a share in the distribution of the works of art in January.

THE SCALPEL.—Who that has ever read Dr. Dixon's "Quarterly Expositor of the Laws of Health, and Abuses of Medicine and Domestic Life," has not laughed heartily on reading his home-thrusts at a some of the medical practitioners of the present day, or cursed severely the author of that which afforded merriment to others. The Dr. is a man of good common sense, and his medical kowledge and extensive practice eminently qualifies him to preside over the "Scalpel." It is intended for the imformation of the people, and money is well spent when laid out for this publication.

☞ Peterson's Magazine, for August, has been received. Each number is an improvement on the one preceding it.—There is something attractive about this Magazine which is not to be found in any other. Its cheapness brings it within the means of almost every body in the country. Price only $2 per annum. C. J. Peterson, Phila.

Letter from the West.

GALESBURG, ILL., July 13th, 1859.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—It was no part of my original plan to trouble you in my compliance with the expressed wishes of many friends and acquaintances, in your highly esteemed city, in detailing our meanderings down the Ohio and up a portion of the "Great Father of Waters" to this, the garden of America. But in view of our whole route being crowded with sceneries of surpassing beauty, and much interest to us, I feel as though a hasty synopsis of them would be more than I have time to give, even to one person, under existing circumstances, therefore I have recently concluded to drop you a few "notes by the way," and if you deem them worthy the space they will occupy, you are at liberty to place them in the Tribune.

In four hours after taking the parting hand with you and many others, at the "Logan House," on the evening of the 21st ult., we were safely landed at the St. Charles Hotel, Pittsburgh. Next morning at 10 o'clock we took passage on board the steamer "Argonaut," bound for St. Louis, under the command of Capt. Brickell, certainly the most accommodating gentleman I have ever met with, in the capacity of a Steamboat Captain or R. R. Conductor, to whom I am greatly indebted for much valuable information. By 5 o'clock P. M., we were gliding smoothly down the Ohio river, leaving the smoky city rapidly in the distance. Night overtook us at Beaver, 30 miles below it, where we were obliged to tie up until 6 next morning, on account of fog, which rendered it impossible for the Pilot to keep the channel.—Next day, 23d, we had a pleasant day's travel, passing a great many thriving and business towns and villages, only a few of which I can mention. Wellsville, Steubenville and Wheeling, are places of very considerable importance and business. At Wheeling we were amazed at the height and length of the wire bridge suspended over the Ohio. The span, which is 1010 feet, is said to be the longest in the world. It is 92 feet above the water, and is supported by wire cables 1380 feet long and 4 inches in diameter—each cable containing 572 strands of No. 10 wire. The towers on the Virginia side are 153 feet high—those on the other side not quite so high. Since the injury done this bridge by the storm in May, 1854, it has only one track—or half as wide as formerly.

After spending an hour or two at Wheeling we moved off again, and passed along nicely until 12 o'clock that night, when the fog compelled us to again hold up, at Parkersburg, Va. 197 miles down the river. This is quite a pretty and business town, of a population of about 6,000. One and a half miles below is the renowned and beautiful Island of Herman Blannerhasset, whose peace, fortune and honor were ruined by Aaron Burr. The Island is about 2 miles long and ½ of a mile wide. Once it possessed a beautiful residence, but now it is a wilderness.

During Friday and Saturday we moved pleasantly and safely on at an average speed of 13 miles per hour, until 8 P. M. on Saturday when we arrived at Cincinnati; having passed, during the last two days, through 300 miles of as beautiful a scenery of the kind, it is said, as the world can produce. At Steubenville we noticed wheat ripe, and all the way from that point to Cincinnati the inhabitants were in the midst of harvesting, corn being all ploughed, &c. The season certainly is two weeks in advance of that in Blair county. All the arable land in view of the river, this far, is in a good state of cultivation. From 100 to 150 miles above Cincinnati, the wine grape is extensively cultivated.

As soon as our party could reach terra firma, it was our for a careful inspection of the "Queen City." This city, more than any other I saw during this trip, surpassed any calculations I had made in regard to it. Neither time nor space will allow me to do justice to Cincinnati, either in point of wealth or beauty. There is a much greater amount of merchandising, of every description, to be seen here, than in any other city of its size I have ever been in. The cleanliness of the streets and the superior manner in which they are payed, are worthy of imitation by her larger and older sisters. The sidewalks are of brick, the streets of good sized stones, and the crossings of iron plate, checkered on top. The temperature of the atmosphere during the day and evening was very oppressive. By 4 o'clock P. M., on Sunday evening we were again under headway down the river. Twenty miles below we came to the famous North Bend and in full view of the monument over Gen. Harrison's grave, which can be seen for some miles. The "log cabin" has been burned, the chimney alone standing to mark the place. That "string" which was "always out" was not to be seen, having been consumed with the rest of the building. There is but little evidence of much pains or expense having been spent in preparing this noted spot for a pleasant home or residence.

Next morning—Monday—at 6 o'clock, we arrived at Louisville, Ky., 142 miles below Cincinnati and 618 below Pittsburg. On a steamer close by were congregated hundreds of rowdies, with a band of music, &c., to go over to the Ind. side to have a prize fight. To look at them and consider the unnatural business they were going into so cheerfully, made me feel badly.—Breakfast over, our obliging captain told us we might go visiting until 2 or 3 o'clock P. M., whereupon our party was soon out though the city, whose population is estimated at 75,000 or 80,000. This is another city of rare beauty and wealth. Beautiful streets and private residences. A very large wholesale business is done here. One house alone does a business to the amount of $1,000,000 a year. Tobacco is a very considerable item in their trade. Here mules are pretty generally used in drays, busses, wagons, &c.—After spending a few hours in the city, we took an omnibus for Portland, 2 miles below, in which we travelled one mile, [illegible] were then transferred to a railroad car drawn by a small white mule, at the rate of 8 miles in 20 minutes. At Portland we took a ferry boat and crossed the river to New Albany, Ind., one of the prettiest towns in the State. Population 19,000. We had time enough to visit most of this city and returned to the wharf boat to await our "Argonaut," which was then in the canal between Louisville and New Albany in order to get round the great shoals in the river at this place. By 4 P. M., we were again on board our boat and steaming it down the beautiful Ohio.

I am here obliged to omit mention of many places and items of interest for want of time and space. On Wednesday morning we awoke at Paducah, at the mouth of the Tennessee Rivers. This is the largest tributary of the Ohio and is navigable for Steamboats 280 miles from its mouth. Paducah contains a population of 4,000.

Fifty miles below this point is the city of Cario, and also the mouth of the Ohio River—If at the junction of these two great rivers—Ohio and Mississippi—the land was sufficiently elevated, no doubt the metropolis of the western world would be there. But such is not the case For, over 100 miles up the Ohio and 150 miles up the Mississippi, the banks are so low as to permit an overflow at all times of ever an ordinary freshet. Except those houses along the levee, on which the railroad is placed, the town is frequently inundated to the depth of 6, 8 and 10 feet. The location is exceedingly unfortunate in this particular, yet it is a place of some considerable business and re-shipment. In conversation with some of the citizens there in regard to their city, I found they felt just like most parents do in regard to their only or youngest child; "it has no equal."

Thus ends my history of the Ohio, which has presented to me the most picturesque and enchanting scenery I have ever witnessed.

I must stop for the present, and if I ever get over the prostration consequent upon travelling in warm weather, I will endeavor to give you some particulars of the Mississippi, two days in St. Louis, city of Nauvoo, &c., &c.

Yours respectfully, C. J HIRST.

Railroad Suits.

The Pittsburgh Press states that well known merchants of that city have instituted proceedings in the District Court of that county, against the Pennsylvania Railroad Company for damages sustained by them in being ejected from a train on said road, while they were on their way east, on business. The history of the case is as follows:—During the railroad war between the Pennsylvania and New York Central routes, tickets were issued from Cleveland to New York, via the Pittsburgh and Cleveland road, and the Pennsylvania Central road, at a much less rate than previously. The fact was, passengers could travel from Cleveland to New York for less money than was charged from Pittsburgh to the same point. As a consequence, many persons reading there, and desiring to go east, had their tickets sent to them from Cleveland. The tickets issued, however, read upon their face, "good for three days." The plaintiffs in this case left Pittsburgh for Philadelphia on the 12th day of May, in the 4 50 P. M. train, having tickets issued jointly by the Cleveland and Pennsylvania roads. The time specified on the face of the tickets having expired, the conductor of the Pennsylvania Railroad Company refused to carry the plaintiffs further than Tyrone, Pa., on said tickets, and demanded $5 50 each, as the amount to which the road was entitled in the way of balance of fare to Philadelphia. Plaintiffs refused to pay the amount, and the conductor, claiming to act under positive instructions, ejected them from the train, near midnight, at Tyrone. They claim that the company, having passed them part of the way, without objection, were bound to carry them through, as the passengers from Cleveland were ticketed through on the same kind of tickets, although the time specified on the face of the cards had expired. We do not know what opinion may be entertained of the matter here, but if the law applying to it be the same that it is in New York—and we believe it is—the plaintiffs will have a happy time in securing their looked for damages. There, a few days since, a case of precisely the same character was tried, and under the ruling of the Court a verdict was held for the defendants.

Murder Will Out.

Many of our readers will doubtless recollect the circumstance of a man named Power, from Perry county, we believe, having been found dead on the canal at Harrisburg, on the morning of the day on which Governor Packer was inaugurated. The supposition then was, that he had been drinking to excess, wandered to the canal, and fell off a bridge or boat on the ice, receiving injuries sufficient to cause death. It now turns out that he was murdered. A short time since, a murderer, executed in California, confessed that he killed Power. After committing the act, he searched the pockets of his victim, obtained about eighty dollars in money, and the same night fled for the West, reaching California in safety, where he committed the murder for which he was executed. He also confessed having murdered three other persons.

PICKED SCISSORS.

☞ Hon. Rufus [illegible] died in Halifax on the 12th inst.

☞ Needed and thankfully received—the showers on Friday last.

☞ Keep cool—if you can, but if you can't go to Taylor's Saloon and get something to cool you.

☞ It is said that half a cranberry, put on a corn, will kill it in a single night. Worth a trial.

☞ A harvest-hand working in Warrior's Mark township, Huntingdon county, fell dead from sunstroke on Wednesday of last week.

☞ Patience—an ingredient very necessary in the composition of those who visit Hooper's barber shop, on Saturday evenings.

☞ Asserted—that a sheriff is the most disagreeable sue-ing machine extant. Many a poor fellow is "completely sewed up" by him.

☞ A letter from our late townsman, Dr C. J. Hirst, will be found in another column.—Hope he may favor us often in the same way.

☞ Talked of—a pic nic to El Dorado station or some other pleasant grove, by the S. of T. and Lady Visitors.

☞ The York (Pa.) Protectionist says that no less than two hundred and thirty-three bushels of cherries were shipped from that place last week to Baltimore.

☞ Bonner, of the New York Ledger, has purchased the fastest trotting team in the country, paying therefor the snug sum of 10,000. "A fool and his money, &c."

☞ Cool—Mr. Hill, who mysteriously disappeared from Bridgeport, Conn., recently. He has written to his wife, (who had offered $100 for his recovery,) that she had better keep her money, as she may want it.

☞ Slightly pictorial—the last number of the Greensburg Democrat. The programme of performances is attractive, and the popularity of the Company fast rising. Give it another hoist, Mr Editor.

☞ It is said when Horace Greeley receives an application for his autograph, he makes out a bill for one year's subscription to the Weekly Tribune, and if the two dollars come back he receipts it.

☞ The Blairsville True American has been suspended for the present, to allow the editor time to collect out-standing debts. He states it is impossible to continue unless he receives his pay.

☞ The ticket office of the Penn'a R. R. Co., at Greensburg, was broken open on the night of the 5th inst., and a lady's trunk taken therefrom and broken open and over $100 worth of jewelry and dresses carried away.

☞ A prize fight for two hundred dollars a side took place at Louisville, Kentucky, June 27th, between Johnny McCooley and Dublin Tricks, the former winning it in thirty rounds, which lasted one hour and ten minutes.

☞ In pursuit of eatables under difficulties—attempting to get marketing out of the market cars which visit this place. The programme will soon be changed. Instead of their being unable to get marketing, the owners of the vegetables will be unable to sell them.

☞ Must be in love—the editor of the Blairsville Record—if we may judge from the number of articles on that subject, and about "lovely woman," which appeared in his paper. All right, Jimmy, "hook on" to one of 'em as soon as possible.

☞ Rather Equivocal.—A New York paper says of a favorite actress, "the more the public see of her the better they like her." And the impudent fellow goes on to say—"we hope to see as much as possible of her before her departure."

☞ Nahant was purchased 250 years ago by a Lyn farmer, for a suit of clothes, and instead of being a fashionable watering place, it abounded in wolves and deer. Now, the wolves there appear in sheep's clothing, and the deer in crinoline and costly silks.

☞ The value of a wife has been fixed by the Orneida Circuit. A man brought suit against the Hudson River Railroad Company to recover damages for the loss of his wife who was killed while on an express train on that road. He set the price at $5,000, but the jury cut it down to $2,000.

☞ An attempt was made last week to get a snake out of the stomach of Daniel Corthell, of Illingham, Massachusetts, which he swallowed while drinking, when it was small, and after inhaling the steam of boiled milk, the snake crawled up into his throat and choked him to death.

☞ It is stated that John C. Tersoth, formerly of Louisville, but more recently a liquor merchant in New Albany, who was paying a visit to Germany, accompanied by his bride, (they being on a wedding tour) was seized by the authorities and impressed into the Prussian army.

☞ The Constitution announces that hereafter its Sunday edition will be dated Saturday evening, so as not to "offend the sensibilities of Christian friends," and "avoid even the appearance of evil." This is quite as cautious as the magistrate who dated a marriage certificate back "to cover accidents."

☞ The Florida Peninsular of the 25th ult., has a remarkable tough story, the effect that 700 head of cattle were driven into the dry bed of a pond, which, although soft, looked so hard that they ventured upon its surface and were drowned. It says the buzzards held high old carnivals for miles around.

☞ How rapid may be the rise of a small stream is illustrated by what took place in the Obanion Creek crossed near Loveland Station, Ohio, by the Little Miami Railroad, about the same period with the great catastrophy on the Michigan Southern Railroad. Within the space of 21 minutes the bed of the creek, nearly dry before, was filled with a wild torrent to the depth of nearly five feet, caused by rains above.

☞ A man living in Eighth Avenue, New York, came home rather late a short time since, and found a strange man asleep in a rocking chair in the sitting room. "Suspecting something wrong," he angrily struck the stranger a blow on the head, which laid him prostrate on the floor. Lights were then obtained, the family were aroused, and the hasty gentleman found out that he had seriously injured his own brother, whom he has not seen since boyhood.

☞ The Bitter Bitten—An aged rascal, in Philadelphia, a few days since in order to cheat his creditors, signed off some $20,000 in real estate to his step sons. The step sons sold the property quietly, pocketed the money, and decamped to the west, leaving the old sinner minus. Served him right.

☞ Quick work—Mr. George A. Wagner, of Berks county, took to the 4th of July celebration at Seaman's woods, near Hamburg, a loaf of fresh bread, the wheat of which was growing in the field at 5 o'clock the same morning. It had been cut, threshed, ground, and baked into bread in about six hours. This is a feat that has rarely, if ever, been equalled.

☞ An important decision to railroad travelers has been rendered in a New York Court, to wit, that a ticket marked "to be used within—days from date," means precisely what it says, and that, in case the purchaser choose to remain beyond the specified time, and refuse to pay the additional fare demanded on the return trip, the conductor of the train has a legal right to eject him therefrom.

NEW AGRICULTURAL SETTLEMENT.

—To all wanting Farms, a rare opportunity in a delightful and healthy climate 25 miles Southeast of Philadelphia, on the Camden and Atlantic Railroad New Jersey.

An old estate consisting of several thousands of acres of productive soil has been divided into Farms of various sizes to suit the purchaser. A population of some fifteen Hundred, from various parts of the Middle States and New England have settled there the past year, improved their places, and raised excellent crops. The price of the land is at the low sum of from $15 to $20 per acre, the soil is of the best quality for the production of Wheat, Clover, Corn, Peaches, Grapes and Vegetables. IT IS CONSIDERED THE BEST FRUIT SOIL IN THE UNION. The place is perfectly secure from frosts—the destructive enemy of the farmer. Crops of grain, grass and fruit are now growing and can be seen. By examining the place itself, a correct judgment can be formed of the productiveness of the land. The terms are made easy to secure the rapid improvement of the land, which is only sold for actual improvement. The result has been, that within the past year, some three hundred houses have been erected, two mills, one steam, four stores, some forty vinyards and Peach orchards planted, and a large number of other improvements, making it a desirable and active place of business.

THE MARKET,

as the reader may perceive from its location, is the BEST IN THE UNION.

Produce bringing double the price than in locations AWAY from the city, and more than double the price than the West. It is known that the earliest and best fruits and vegetables in this latitude come from New Jersey, and are annually exported to the extent of millions.

In locating here, the settler has many advantages. He is within a few hours ride of the great cities of New England and Middle States. he is near his old friends and associations, he is in a settled country where every improvement of comfort and civilization is at hand. He can buy every article he wants at the cheapest price, and sell his produce for the highest, (in the West this is reversed,) he has schools for his children, divine service, and will enjoy an open winter, and delightful climate, where fevers are utterly unknown. The result of the change upon those from the north, has generally been to restore them to an excellent state of health.

In the way of building and improving, lumber can be obtained at the mills at the rate of $10 to $15 per thousand. Bricks from the brick yard opened in the place, every article can be procured in the place, good carpenters are at hand, and there is no place in the Union where building and improvements can be made cheaper.

The reader will at once be struck with the advantages there presented, and ask himself why the property has not been taken up before. The reason is, it was never thrown in the market; and unless these statements were correct, no one would be invited to examine the land before purchasing. This all are expected to do. They will see land under cultivation, such is the extent of the settlement that they will no doubt, meet persons from their own neighborhood; they will witness the improvements and can judge the character of the population. If they come with a view to settle, they should come prepared to stay a day or two and be ready to purchase, as locations cannot be held on refusal.

There are two daily trains to Philadelphia, and to all settlers who improve, the Railroad Company gives a Free Ticket for six months, and a half-price Ticket for three years.

THE TOWN OF HAMMONTON.

In connection with the agricultural settlement, a new and thriving town has naturally arisen, which presents inducements for any kind of business, particularly stores and manufactories. The Shoe business could be carried on to this place and market to good advantage, also cotton business, and manufactories of agricultural implements or Foundries for casting small articles. The improvement has been so rapid as to insure a constant and permanent increase of business. Town lots of a good size, we do not call small ones, as it would effect the improvement of the place, can be had at from $100 and upwards.

The Hammonton Farmer, a monthly literary and agricultural sheet, containing full information of Hammonton, can be obtained at 25 cents per annum.

Title indisputable—warrantee deeds given, clear of all incumbrance when money is paid. Route to the land, leave Vine street wharf, Philadelphia for Hammonton by Railroad, at 7½ A. M., or 4 P. M. Fare 90 cents. When there inquire for Mr. Byrnes. Boarding convenience on hand. Parties had better stop with Mr. Byrnes, a principal, until they have decided as to purchasing, as he will show them over the land in his carriage, free of expense. Letters and applications can be addressed to Lands at Byrnes, Hammonton P. O., Atlantic Co., New Jersey, or S. B. Coughlin, 202 South Fifth Street, Philadelphia. Maps and information cheerfully furnished.

LOCAL ITEMS.

ALTOONA GAS AND WATER COMPANY.—That we are to have gas and water in Altoona is now a fixed fact. The sum of $25 000 has been subscribed, and a Superintendent, Mr. Frances. of Greensburg, appointed to construct the works, which will be commenced in a few days. A row of lots in block AAA, at the head of Annie street, in North Ward, has been purchased by the Company, on which to construct the basin The vacant lot of ground below McCormick's store, between Virginia street and the Rail Road, has been secured as the site for the gas works. Although the amount of capital stock already secured is very respectable, it is not sufficient to complete the works in the manner desired, It now remains with our citizens, a number of whom are abundantly able, but who as yet have failed to subscribe to the capital stock, to say whether the whole or part of the town is to be benefitted by these improvements. It is estimated, and from what we can learn, the estimate is a liberal one, that $40,000 will build the works and lay down pipes through all the streets of the town, and thereby enable all who wish to obtain pure water and cheap light.—Certainly there are fifteen men in the town who are able to take the remainder of the stock necessary to accomplish so desirable an end The stock will be taken, but we would rather that it should be held by citizens of the town who are directly interested in the management of the works, as well for their own benefit domestically as pecuniarly.

It is expected that the works will be completed within four months from this date.

CULPABLE CARELESSNESS.—We notice in some persons a culpably careless practice, in hitching horses to young shade trees, or the boxes around them, which some of our humane and liberal citizens have placed along the sidewalks. These acts of carelessness, or we may say outrages, are generally committed by persons from the country who come to town with marketing or to make purchases, who, to save a little trouble in looking for a hitching post, fasten their hitching strap to a tree and allow their beasts to stand for hours. At this season, horses soon become restless and hungry, and consequently chew the trees, destroy the boxes, or injure the pavement. In some cases it may be attributed to thoughtlessness on the part of the persons so hitching their horses, and if so, it argues that they have little care as to the appearances of their residences, and pay no attention to improvements, else they would not thus despoil those made by others. Farmers would complain bitterly if any of our citizens should visit their farms and tramp down their growing crops or injure their trees; but think nothing of despoiling trees planted along the streets of towns. Our attention has been called to this by observing a number of trees around the "Logan House" square so much peeled by horses that they must die, and also seeing a horse, a few days since, breaking down a tree box, thereby injuring the tree very much. We think there should be a Borough Ordinance to prevent such destruction, if there be not one already upon the Ordinance Book.

VALUABLE R. R. IMPROVEMENT.—We find in a number of papers, the following notice of Loughridge's Graduating Car Brake, with which the Penn'a R. R. Co., has equipped its Fast Line trains, which places in the hands of the engineer the entire control of all the brakes in his train. With this great improvement an additional security of at least one hundred percent. over the old system of handbrakes has been secured, and trains can be regulated by the engineer for stopping at all stations, checking up at bridges, switches, &c., with perfect accuracy.—A train can be brought to a full stop, at any time, within four hundred feet, when running at thirty miles per hour, obviating serious risk of collision with obstructions, cattle, &c. The practical working of this great invention may be witnessed every day on the fast lines from Philadelphia to Pittsburgh. All who examine it will be surprised to see with what perfect accuracy the trains are managed at all stations and other points, exclusively by the engineer, and how little labor is required to do it. This invention has been adopted by several western roads, and is recommended by H. G. Lord, W. H. Clement, D. McLaren, E. Gest, and other officers of roads running into Cincinnati, who have adopted it.

RUNAWAY.—On Monday morning last, two horses belonging to G. Rouch, brewer, of Hollidaysburg, attached to a lager beer wagon, became frightened, while standing in front of the American Hotel, and made tracks down Emma street. By a hair's breadth, the yard fence in front of Dr. Hirst's property escaped, only a small piece being knocked off one corner of it. Arriving at Julia street they turned the corner and came down the hill toward Virginia street at 2.40 speed, striking the sign post in front of Reibenack's saloon and shivering the sign board considerably. At this point they took the sidewalk and passed safely, although it can hardly be told how, between a pile of bricks and the iron front of Jaggard's new building Turning the corner again, they came down Virginia street with unslacked pace, tearing down tree boxes and hitching posts, smashing one of the wheels of the wagon and making things rip miscellaneously. All efforts to stop their mad career proved unavailing, and they continued to run until they arrived at the offset in Virginia street, at the Greensburg line, where one of the horses gave out and the other became entangled in its breast chain. Fortunately no person was injured, although quite a number were in imminent peril.

HOW TO DO IT.—If you want to keep your borough from thriving, turn a cold shoulder to every mechanic or beginner in business, look upon every new comer with a jealous scowl.—Discourage all you can; if that don't do, descry his work, or his goods, and rather go abroad for ware of this kind or that than give him your money. A few years will be sufficient experience. If anybody scorns any business, let them "sing out."

Bible Presentation.

Agreeably to the expressed wishes of a number of the friends of temperance and the speakers named, as well as a vote of the Division, we publish below the presentation and reception speeches on the occasion of the presentation of a beautiful copy of the Holy Bible to Altoona Division, S. of T., by the "Lady Visitors:"

REMARKS OF REV. S. CREIGHTON.

Members of Altoona Division, Sons of Temperance,—I have the distinguished honor of presenting you, in behalf of the "Accepted Lady Visitors"—as an evedence of their respect for you and the cause which you labor so nobly and perseveringly to promote—one of the most beautiful and valuable articles that could have been selected. Whilst it reflets undying honor upon them, I pray that it may prove an everlasting blessing to you. Upon its doctrines I trust you have founded your organization. If by its precepts you continue to be governed, success will inevitably attend you as individuals and as a society. In it you will find wisdom to direct, promises to encourage and power to sustain. Revere it, love it, study it, obey it. 'Tis Heaven's best gift to man—God's Holy Bible!

REMARKS OF W. C. MCCORMICK.

LADIES—In the name, and on behalf of Altoona Division, No. 311 of the Sons of Temperance, I receive this distinguished token of your munificence and kind regard for our order. And it affords me great pleasure personally, in being the humble recipient of so marked a favor.

The occasion, and surrounding circumstances connected intimately with this presentation—this evident display of woman's warm-hearted and affectionate esteem for the order of the Sons of Temperance, and the precious, priceless gift itself—all serves to enhance the value of the article bestowed, and to bring this Division under a more lasting gratitude in the appreciation of the prompting motives of our ever kind and fair donors.

When we take into consideration that our mission now is one of pure benevolence, and that the great object we all aim at, and have continually before our minds, being the melioration of the condition of that unfortunate portion of our fellow citizens who have acquired an appetite for strong drink, and who are now in the grasp of that fell destroyer, that bane of all social society—the demon of intemperance—I say, that taking all these into consideration, I feel how utterly inadequate and unable I am to do justice to the subject. It demands an abler pen, and a more powerful intellect than I possess, to portray and set forth in all its deserved beauty and loveliness, the pleasing scene presented before us at this moment.

I can therefore only throw myself upon your kind indulgence, while I shall briefly attempt to advert, for a very few moments, to the occasion and motives which have served to call for this display of your esteem and respect for us, and then allude, very briefly, to the source from whence it emianates—lovely woman—and conclude by asking you, and all the members of this Division, to follow me in the contemplation of the gift bestowed—the Bible.

But a few months ago, and there was no Division of the Sons of Temperance in this otherwise favored town of Altoona, where the friends of order and temperance could meet socially, and discuss and deliberate upon the best means and measures to be used for reclaiming the inebriates, who we see daily pressing their way down to darkness and eternal ruin, and where we could breathe the pure air of a world of temperance in miniature, unmolested. No, the demon of intemperance then was suffered to stalk abroad in all his native deformity and ugliness, unmolested. Our whole county were then exposed to the blighting and withering effects of the accursed traffic and use of alcoholic drinks as a beverage.

But now, thanks to a kind over-ruling Providence, the dawn of better days are being ushered in, a change for the better is evidently taking place. We, who are here assembled this evening, at least are enabled to say, in language prepared for our use, "One place is secure from his ravage—one circle he can never enter—that glorious refuge is here—it is here."

As a further evidence of this, I would ask you to cast your eye around this room, and what a noble and soul-cheering spectacle presents itself to your view and admiration. What means that lovely picture hung in that beautiful frame on the wall? What means that marble top table with its pitcher full of God's own pure beverage —water? What means those two wands, one gracefully placed on each side of this spacious hall, with their pleasant, cheerful smiling occupants? What means these other individuals, some at desks, others occupying important positions, and all wearing appropriate insignais of office? What means this cheerful little company of lady teetotalers, casting forth their bright eyes and smiling countenances, a halo of light on this side of the room? And what mean those noble, manly forms of the aged and youthful occupants of that side of the room, and all clothed in appropriate regalia? Why just this, a Division of the Sons of Temperance has been organized, and is in active operation, and thus far have exceeded our most sanguine expectations. A nucleus is here, around which now cluster our warmest desires and anxious hopes Into this world of temperance let others, we do hope to gather many, very many, from the fangs of the destroyer—and from which shall go out such an influence as may eventually succeed in bringing about such a reform as shall effectually banish forever from our midst, the manufacture, sale, traffic and use, as a beverage, of all intoxicating drinks. It is these hopes and these anticipations, and the other circumstances surrounding us, which have been the actuating motives that prompted the ladies to bring about this evening's proud era.

I now turn with the most pleasing sensations to the second topic I promised to notice—the Bible donor. Here permit me to observe, that amidst the many alterations and amendments to our beautiful ritual, none meets my decided approbation more fully than that of admitting lady visitors to grace our sessions with their presence. And, thus admitted, how soon you see their native benevolence demonstrating itself in some kind act, reminding you forcibly of the ministrations of holier beings, and at the same time the quick perception of propriety and taste, so characteristic of the sex. Yet with a fixed determination to contend for and maintain that position in social society which the God of nature and of grace has destined they should occupy—and this noble offering, ladies, made to us this evening, serves to remind me of the fact, that you are not blind to your own dearest interests. You are no doubt aware, that wherever this Holy Bible is not, or remains a sealed book, you women are destined to fill the lowest position in the social circle, are crushed to the very dust, your rights are trampled upon, your privileges circumscribed, and all your acts of sympathy and benevolence unappreciated, and woman made to perform the lowest duties of a menial servant. But where this blessed Word of God is free and open to all, and where its pure and holy precepts predominate over the minds and hearts of men, your rights are fully guaranteed, your privileges respected, your acts of mercy and kindness are appreciated, and you are found to be (if under the influence of divine grace) the soother of our sorrows, our solace in affliction, always ready to cheer, to comfort and to be the delightful companion of man. Looking at this aspect of affairs, it does not require prophetic vision to inform us to-night, how you happened to select this book as your offering to us.

But finally—the Gift itself. Look, brethren, at this book I hold in my hand—the Bible—the precious, priceless Bible, presented to you, and to me, this evening as a token of esteem and respect for us and our Order. Its symmetrical proportions are perfect, the design and finish is admirable; and see, here are emblems stamped upon its title, full of meaning—a friendship increasing, and that knows no end. Love for all in sickness or health, in prosperity or adversity—purity of life and motives, and faithfulness to the cause we have espoused, and a desire that all should share with us in them Now allow me to open the lids of this book, and study its pages—dwell upon its sacred truths—ponder them in our minds—ask God to open up and enlighten our minds to an understanding of them spiritually—receive them as heavenly truth—accept them as God's message to man, as his revealed will to us as sinners, and holding forth his own plain and the only way of escape from death eternal—read and ponder well the stupendous plan of man's redemption—read the simple but effective story of the cross, and then tell me if you can, the value of this book, just now presented and received for you and I. You cannot limit its value—no, no. This book—this Bible carries with it its own intrinsic value. Angels stood amazed, desiring to fathom its mysteries, and were not able to understand and comprehend the doctrine of God manifest in the flesh, and how can either you or I? Yet all the blessings made known to us in this Bible, may become ours, if we will but accept of them as offered to us. Yes, all may be ours—we may be Christ's—for Christ is God's.

May we all then, as we receive this gift at the hands of our lady visitors, endeavor to receive the gifts and graces of God's Holy Spirit, offered to us in it, and learn to practice its holy precepts and examples in this Division, and in all our intercourse with the world. Then you and I, Brothers, will have reason to bless the day we entered the Division, and you, ladies, the day you presented this precious volume to us

Ladies, I congratulate you, and ask you to receive the united thanks of this Division.

LOVE PUZZLE.—The Petersburg (Va.,) Daily Express says love is a puzzle enough in itself, but when lovers get to puzzling one another, it is certainly indicative of a dull courtship—cooning and kissing must be growing stale. A gentleman who recently waited upon a lady for some time, summed up resolution enough, finally, to ask her if his attentions were agreeable. She answered him with the ominous word stripes —he thought of broom sticks—but she added, that if he would transpose the letters in that word and form another out of them, the word so formed would be her answer. He did so. Now, fair readers, what was her answer?

MAJOR GENERAL.—Brig. Gen. B. F. Bell, of this county, has been elected Major General of this Division. Bedford and Fulton counties voted for Gen. Campher, and Somerset and Cambria for Gen. Coffroth. The promotion of Gen. Bell creates a vacancy in the office of Brig. Gen. in this county. Col. Higgins has been named to fill the vacancy.

THE FOUST CASE.—The Erie City Dispatch, in reciting the fact that the Supreme Court has reversed the decision of the Court of that county in the case of Foust, of this county, who was tried and convicted for murder in the first degree, and has ordered a new trial, says, "Let justice be done though the Heavens should fall," and from his known principles favoring the abolition of Capital punishment, we advise Judge Galbraith to procure the services of a Judge who can legally try this case, so that no blame can be attached to him should the prisoner escape his just deserts. A fearful responsibility is now resting upon the officers of the law, and the community enmasse look for its faithful execution." After commenting further on the prompt enforcement of the laws for protecting society, the editor concludes by saying, "We have had enough of mock justice and the time has now arrived for the people to take care of themselves, if the judiciary fails to do so."—From this it would appear that the efforts of Foust's friends to get a new trial is not very well received, that the justice of the decision of the Court below was considered correct, and there is little hope of his ultimate acquittal.

PROFESSOR GADDIS' LECTURES.—On Thursday evening last, Prof. Gaddis lectured on temperance in the M. E. Church, according to announcement, and again on Friday evening, by request, in the Lutheran Church. We will not attempt a synopsis of his lectures, as we feel we could not do them justice in the space allotted to a notice thereof. All who had the pleasure of hearing him, agree that he is just the man to send out on such a mission. His manner of dividing his discourses, and the anecdotes and illustrations with which he applies his arguments, are at once captivating and convincing. Undoubtedly he will do a great work for the temperance cause wherever he goes. Through his efforts Divisions of the Sons of Temperance are about to be opened at Tyrone and Birmingham. We bespeak for him a cordial welcome from temperance men, and a full house at every point in our State where he may visit.

ENVELOPE POETRY.—The number of scraps of doggeral rhyme lately published, purporting to be the endorsement on letters sent through the Post Office, has induced some genius in or about this place, to imortalize his name after the same fashion, by inditing the following direction on the envelope of a letter dropped into the Post Office, in this place, a few evenings since:—

"Send this, Post Master, if you are willing,
To Joe Miller, a darned old villain;
Let it go with Postage bounty,
To Philadelphia, in the same county."

We think this po-ick should try his hand again. Another such attempt to court the muse, would certainly bring Bonner of the N. Y. Ledger to our town, to secure the individual to "contribute only" for that paper.

EXACTLY SO.—We find the following in an exchange and consider it too true to be passed unnoticed, and we copy it for the benefit of those interested:—"If business places where ladies make purchases want to kill custom they cannot devise a better method than to allow smokers and loafers to spend their time in their stores. As a general rule, we advise druggists, confectioners, shop and store keepers, one and all, to discountenance, and if necessary, address a boot-top appeal to all and every class of loafers, whether they smoke horizontally, perpendicularly, heels over-head, or do not smoke at all. Nothing will "kill" custom sooner than this loafing system."

For the Tribune.

A Session of the Grand Division of the Sons of Temperance will be held on Wednesday, July 27th, in the Masonic Temple in this place, and on the evening of the same day, a temperance mass meeting will be held in the Methodist Church, on which occasion addresses will be delivered by H. K. Smith, G. W. P., Wm. Nicholson, G. S. and others. We trust the importance of the cause is of sufficient magnitude to elicit a general attendance of its friends, apart from the popularity of the speakers whom we expect to address us. A. D. CHERRY, R. Altoona Division No. 311, S. of T.

Altoona, July 13th, 1859.

LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.

HOLLIDAYSBURG, July 19th, 1859.

MESSRS. EDITORS:—Local items that would be of general interest to your readers, have been very scarce for some weeks past, consequently I have refrained from writing I will now, however, attempt to jot a few lines to you concerning our town and people.

On Monday evening week, a social gathering of young folks took place at the residence of Thos. Burchinell, Esq., of Gaysport. Among the refreshments served up was that most delightful of summer luxuries, ice cream. Mrs. Burchinell having read that hartshorn would improve its flavor, sent one of the boys to the store to purchase that article, but, by mistake, he got arsenic. This he took home, and a spoonful and a half was mixed with the cream. All of the company partook of it, more or less, and the consequence was that most of them were somewhat unwell. Mrs. Wm. Jackson and a son of Mr. Burchinell were very sick for some days, and the former is still unwell, but will recover. The escape of the company from death is attributable to the fact that milk is an anti dote to poison.

On Wednesday evening last, Prof. Gaddis, of Cincinnati, delivered an address on temperance, in the Court House. He was listened to with great attention by a large and respectable audience, and fully convinced his hearers that he was an able and eloquent lecturer. His lecture abounded with numerous anecdotes which touched the hearts of those who sympathize with the victims of intemperance. He also delivered a lecture in the Presbyterian Church, on Saturday evening, to a large and attentive audience.

The Sabbath School Teachers' Association met according to adjournment, on Friday evening last. Remarks were made by Revs. Dosh and Junkin, and Messrs. Smith, McKinney, Martin, and others. The members of the Association appear to be united in their efforts to advance the cause of Sabbath Schools. May we not hope that they may be crowned with success.

SUPERB DRINK.—As this is the season of the year at which water, unless fresh from the fountain or cooled with ice, is very impalatable, and everybody desires something a little out of the usual line of beverages, we give the following, which is certainly very cheap and is considered excellent. Take 8 oz. of carbonate of Soda; 6 oz. tartaric acid; two pounds of loaf sugar, finely powdered; 3 drachms essence of lemon. Let the powders be very dry. Mix them intimately, and keep them for use in a wide mouthed bottle, closely corked. Put in two good sized teaspoonfuls into a tumbler; pour in half a pint of cold water, stir briskly and drink off.

WELCH MINER'S CLUB CONCERT.—This concert, advertised to come off in East Ward School House on Saturday evening last, was postponed until this (Thursday) evening, when it will positively come off at Shultz's Military Hall, Those who have attended the concerts given by this Club speak of them in the highest terms of praise. Their object in giving these concerts is praiseworthy, and they deserve to be liberally patronized. Tickets for the concert can be had at the Banking House of Wm. M. Lloyd & Co., at the Post Office and at the Exchange Hotel.

M'LANE'S WORM SPECIFIC,

PREPARED BY FLEMING BROS.

☞ The following, from a customer, shows the demand which this great medicine has created wherever it has been introduced:

BLOSSBURG, Tioga Co. Pa., March 30, 1850.

MESSRS. FLEMING BROS.—Gentlemen:—In consequence of the great consumption of your "Worm Specific" in this place and vicinity, we have entirely exhausted our stock. We should feel obliged by your forwarding, via Corning, N. Y., 20 dozen, with your bill, on the reception of which we will remit you the money.

From the wonderful effects of said "Specific" in this neighborhood, there could be sold annually a large quantity, if to be had, (wholesale and retail) from some local agent. If you would compensate a person for trouble and expense of vending, I think I could make it to your advantage to do so.

Yours, Respectfully, WM. M MALLORY,
Per W. E. PORTER.

☞ Purchasers will be careful to ask for DR. M'LANE'S CELEBRATED VERMIFUGE, manufactured by FLEMING BROS. of Pittsburgh, Pa. All other Vermifuges in comparison are worthless. Dr. M'Lane's genuine Vermifuge, also his celebrated Liver Pills, can now be had at all respectable drug stores. None genuine unless the signature of FLEMING BROS.

EPILEPSY, OR FALLING FITS.

We believe we can not do our readers a more important service, than by again calling their attention to that most remarkable preparation, discovered by Dr. Seth S. Hance, of Baltimore, Md., which possesses the power of alleviating and curing that horrid visitation of man—Epilepsy, or Falling Fits. In commending this preparation to our readers, we do so with a conviction that we are not degrading our columns to puff a common patent medicine, but are placing before them a discovery, which, if fully known, would probably do more to alleviate human suffering, than any invention of modern times. Dr. Hance, in asking us to notice his preparation favorably in our editorial department, has sent us for perusal a number of letters from persons who have used his Pills, and have been cured thereby. All of them speak in the most grateful and eulogistic terms. One great advantage this medicine possesses is the fact, that it can be transported through the mails, thereby affording every one an opportunity of dealing directly with the inventor, and also precluding all possibility of being imposed on by a counterfeit or spurious imitation. Dr. Hance pays the postage on his Pills to any part of the country, and will forward them by return of mail, on the receipt of a remittance. His prices are as follows: One box $3; two do. $5; twelve do, $24. All orders for the medicine should be addressed to Seth S. Hance, 108 Baltimore street, Baltimore, Md.

HAIR DYE—HAIR DYE—HAIR DYE.

WM. A. BATCHELOR'S HAIR DYE!

The Original and Best in the World!

All others are mere imitations, and should be avoided, if you wish to escape ridicule.

GRAY, RED, or RUSTY HAIR. Dyed instantly to a beautiful and natural Brown or Black, without the least injury to the Hair or Skin.

Fifteen Medals and Diplomas have been awarded to Wm. A. Batchelor since 1839, and over 80,000 applications have been made to the hair of his patrons of his famous Dye.

WM. A. BATCHELOR'S HAIR DYE produces a color not to be distinguished from nature, and is WARRANTED not to injure in the least, however long it may be continued, and the ill effect of Bad Dyes remedied; the Hair invigorated for Life by this Splendid Dye.

Made, sold or applied (in 9 private rooms) at the Wig Factory, 233 Broadway, New York.

Sold by Druggists in Altoona, and by Druggists in all cities and towns of the United States.

Dalley's Magical Pain Extractor.

In all diseases inflammation more or less predisposition—now to allay inflammation is further at the root of disease—hence an immediate cure.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR,
and nothing else, will allay inflammation at once, and make a certain cure.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR
will cure the following among a great catalogue of diseases: Burns, Scalds, Cuts, Chafes, Sore Nipples, Corns, Bunions, Bruises, Sprains, Bites, Poisons, Chilblains, Piles, Scrofula, Ulcers, Fever Sores, Felons, Ear Ache, Piles, Sore Eyes, Gout, Swellings, Rheumatism, Scald Head, Salt Rheum, Baldness, Erysipelas, Ringworm, Barbers' Itch, Small Pox, Measles, Rash, &c., &c.

To some it may appear incredulous that so many diseases should be reached by one article; such an idea will vanish when reflection points to the fact, that the salve is a combination of ingredients, each and every one applying a perfect antidote to its opposite disorder.

DALLEY'S MAGICAL PAIN EXTRACTOR
In its effects is magical, because the time is so short between disease and a permanent cure; and it is an extractor, as it draws all disease out of the affected part, leaving nature as perfect as before the injury. It is scarcely necessary to say that no house, work-shop, or manufactory should be one moment without it.

No Pain Extractor is genuine unless the box has upon it a steel plate engraving, with the name of Henry Dalley, Manufacturer.

Sold by G. W. Kessler, Altoona; George A. Jacobs, Hollidaysburg; and by all the Druggists and patent medicine dealers throughout the United States and Canadas.

Principal Depot, 165 Chambers street, New York.

IMPORTANT TO FEMALES—DR CHEESEMAN'S PILLS.—The combination of ingredients in these Pills are the result of a long and extensive practice. They are mild in their operation, and certain in correcting all irregularities, painful menstruations, removing all obstructions, whether from cold or otherwise, headache, pain in the side, palpitation of the heart, disturbed sleep, which always arise from interruption of nature, inducing with certainty periodical regularity. Warranted purely vegetable, and free from anything injurious to life or health. Explicit directions, which should be read, accompany each box. Price $1. Sent by mail by inclosing $1 to any authorized Agent.

JACOB SNYDER, TAILOR,

The Hero of One Hundred Fits per Month!

I would respectfully set forth my claim to public attention, as a Fashionable Tailor as follows:

Because I keep an excellent assortment of Cloths, Cassimeres, Vestings and Trimmings, which, when examined, always please.

Because my work is made up in a manner that takes down the country and gives all my customers a city appearance.

Because I am not inferior as a Cutter to the best to be found anywhere.

Because long experience in my business gives me entire control over it and I am not dependant upon any one to fit me out of the suds.

Because I am still on the sunny side of forty, and therefore my taste as a Cutter and workman unimpaired.

Call on me, in the corner room of the "Brant House." Give me a trial and you will go away pleased.

BOERHAAVE'S HOLLAND BITTERS

THE CELEBRATED HOLLAND REMEDY FOR

DYSPEPSIA,
DISEASE OF THE KIDNEYS,
LIVER COMPLAINT,
WEAKNESS OF ANY KIND
FEVER AND AGUE,

And the various affections consequent upon a disordered STOMACH OR LIVER,

Such as Indigestion, Acidity of the Stomach, Colicky Pains, Heartburn, Loss of Appetite, Despondency, Costiveness, Bilious and Bleeding Piles. In all Nervous, Rheumatic and Neuralgic Affections, it has in numerous instances proved highly beneficial, and in others effected a decided cure.

This is a purely vegetable compound, prepared on strictly scientific principles, after the manner of the celebrated Holland Professor, Boerhave: Because of its great success in the most of the European States, its introduction into the United States was intended more especially for those of our fatherland scattered here and there over the face of this mighty country. Meeting with great success amidst them, I now offer it to the American public, knowing that its truly wonderful medical virtues must be acknowledged.

It is particularly recommended to those persons whose constitutions may have been impaired by the continued use of ardent spirits, or other forms of dissipation. Generally instantaneous in effect, it finds its way directly to the seat of life, thrilling and quickening every nerve, rallying up the drooping spirit, and, in fact, infusing new health and vigor in the system.

CAUTION.—The great popularity of this delightful remedy has induced many imitations, which the public should guard against purchasing. Do not persuaded to buy anything else until you have given Boerhave's Holland Bitters a fair trial. One bottle will convince you how infinitely superior it is to all these imitations.

DR. COGGSWELL'S NEW MEDICAL DISCOVERY.
Read the following Certificate to the Efficacy of this Medicine in Inflammatory Disease.

"For the last twelve years I have been more or less troubled with Inflammatory Rheumatism, commencing early in the Spring, and lasting until cold weather set in, when I would be relieved for a while, only to be attacked again in the Spring. All my joints would swell and be very sore, attended with the most acute pain. My feet, shoulders, arms, and hands troubled me most, so much so that I could scarcely walk, and almost always required assistance in dressing. During this time I would try everything I could hear of, in the hope of finding a cure. I also tried several physicians, but nothing seemed to help me in the least in the world. About two and a half years ago I was attacked as usual, and as usual tried everything to get rid of it, but to no purpose. I kept growing worse, and finally had to give up and stay in the house, where I was confined about four weeks. This time my feet swelled and were so sore that I could not stand on them or get on my boots, and my hands swelled to twice their usual size. In fact, I was, to all appearances and belief, totally used up. About this time my parents, who reside in Maine, sent for me to come home. I went and after my arrival I commenced trying another remedy, hoping to be cured, but resulting the same as all others. For weeks I had not been able to dress myself or to raise my hand to my head, and suffering the most excruciating pain all the time.—One day my father came in with a paper in which was advertised D. Coggswell's MEDICAL SALT, for Inflammatory Diseases only, and wanted me to read and see what I thought of it. I read and laughed at it, pronounced it a humbug, and told him that I had been humbugged enough. He kept urging me, and at last said I could but try it, and if I would write to Dr. C., giving him a description of my disease, he would pay the expense. Of course I could not refuse such an offer and sent for one box. It came in due season, but my faith was not increased, and I laughed at the idea of so small a dose doing me any good, and told my wife that I believed Dr. C. and his Salt both humbugs.—However, I commenced using it and the result was perfectly astonishing. I could hardly realize it myself. I slept soundly all night, which I had not done for a long time, and when I awoke in the morning, strange as it may seem, I was entirely free from pain. I had then taken but one dose, and bathed freely before going to bed. That morning I felt so well that I hardly knew how to contain myself, and went down stairs and told the folks how well I felt, and from that day to this I have not suffered one moment's pain or had an attack of my once dreaded enemy, Rheumatism. I am perfectly well and hearty, and wherever I have a chance I recommend it. A friend of mine, residing in Brooklyn, is now trying it for a bad case of neuralgic rheumatism, and so far, it is working admirably.—This is a long story, but I have told all the facts, which I can bring witnesses to substantiate if necessary; and will again say that in the MEDICAL SALT, a sure cure may be found for all inflammatory diseases, and would urge all who are afflicted to give it a trial. GEO. H. DUNCAN.
No. 117 Wall Street, New York.

When it is remembered that the MEDICAL SALT is as efficacious in all other Inflammatory diseases as in Rheumatism, (see descriptive circulars) it will at once be seen that it is a most valuable remedy. Surely those thus afflicted will find in their own condition and in the above statements enough to induce them to give the MEDICAL SALT a trial.
Price $1,00; Chronic packages, $2,50.

RED LION HOTEL,
ALTOONA, BLAIR COUNTY, PA.
This old established and popular HOTEL, located nearly opposite the place of stopping the passenger cars in Altoona, has passed into the hands of the present proprietor.—Long experience in the business warrants me in assuring the travelling public that no pains will be spared to render guests as comfortable as possible while sojourning under my roof.
The TABLE will constantly be supplied with the very best the market affords.
The BAR will be found to contain an excellent assortment of LIQUORS of all kinds, including that choice beverage LAGER BEER.
The STABLE is in charge of an excellent and experienced Ostler.
The proprietor hopes, by his long experience in the busines and the facilities at his command, to make the Red Lion, in all respects, a first class Hotel. The business of the Hotel will be made my own personal supervision. A liberal share of public patronage is kindly solicited.

THE SECRET INFIRMITIES OF YOUTH AND MATURITY, just published Gratis, the 25th Thousand.

A few words on the Rational Treatment, without Medicine, of Spermatorrhœa or Local Weakness, Nocturnal Emissions, Genital and Nervous Debility, Premature Decay of the System, Impotency and Impediments to marriage generally, by R. DE LANEY, M. D.
The important fact that many alarming complaints, originating in the imprudence and solitude of youth, may be easily and effectually removed WITHOUT MEDICINE, is in this small tract, clearly demonstrated; and the entirely new and highly successful treatment, as adopted by the Author, fully explained, by means of which every one is enabled to cure himself perfectly and at the least possible cost, thereby avoiding all the advertised nostrums of the day.
Sent to any address, gratis and post free in a sealed envelope, by remitting (post paid) two postage stamps to Dr. R. DE LANEY, 88 East 31st Street, New York City.

SUFFERING HUMANITY, READ THIS.—The undersigned takes this method of informing the public generally that there is no medicine now offered to the public that is equal to DU VALL'S GALVANIC OIL in relieving suffering humanity.
I was an observer of its effects on a friend of mine, who suffered almost everything from a neuralgic affection which resisted the best medical treatment in Centre county. We applied freely the Galvanic Oil to the painful part, and gave some inwardly, and in 20 minutes the pain was asleep, and when aw
